The third and final visit of the fiscal year brought in 115 qualified donors, and with a quota of 106 to fill, the sponsors, the Jr. Woman's Club of Appomattox, were understandably pleased and excited about the excellent turnout.

HEAP Aids Needy Youth

RICHMOND -- State Youth Coordinator, Joseph F. Lewis, discussed financial support programs available for needy students during Appomattox County High School Career Day Conference.

Lewis stated that in today's society it is imperative that every citizen be given an opportunity to realize his fullest potential, regardless of his family heritage or economic status.

HEAP (Higher Education Achievement Program) is a financial assistance program designed to remove the cultural, financial, and academic barriers of needy students and provide them with an opportunity to further their education.

The HEAP Program employs the systems approach to education. By this approach, the student is given individualized instructions, and permitted to progress accordingly without the traditional grading system as a constant reminder of possible failure.

Co-sponsored by the Federal government and the consortium of Junior Colleges through Kittrell Junior College, HEAP will endeavor to provide educationally and economically deprived individuals an opportunity to become a part of the American mainstream of life.

Supervisors Consider '71-'72 School Budget

Dog Tie-Up Begins 15th

At the regular meeting of the County of Supervisors Friday, School Supt. Earl J. Smith presented a proposed school budget for 1971-72 which includes a salary scale of $6800 - $9004. Total budget presented is $1,510,947 as compared with $1,307,389 for the current school year.

The Superintendent explained that most of the increase is reflected in increases in teachers' salaries and for the addition of one assistant principal, made necessary for state accreditation and for local needs, also, for a special education teacher and one additional supervisor.

The board said it would consider the budget and notify the Supt. and the School Board of any decision to approve or disapprove the budget. The proposed budget does not include approximately $109,000 for Title I, federal funds.

All dogs in Appomattox county must be confined for a period of sixty days beginning Thursday, April 15 and ending June 15, according to an ordinance passed in March by the board.

County forester Warren Taylor, acting in a capacity as Boy Scout troop advisor, asked for and received permission of the supervisors to make use of the county seal on Scout neckerchiefs for Troop 546.

W. W. Blythe, president of the Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce, asked the board for $250 to help pay for the printing of 10,000 Appomattox brochures, the second printing of the popular blue and white brochure distributed through the Va. Travel Council to motels, restaurants and other tourist attractions throughout Virginia and other states.

Appomattox County Jaycees presented petitions to the Appomattox Board of Supervisors Friay representing 1,004 names of voters requesting that the board hold its meetings at night in order that there might be greater participation by the people in county matters.

At present meetings are held each second Friday of the month at 9 a.m.

Presenting the petitions were J. Danny Simpson, president of the Jaycees and Robert Stewart, immediate past president. The board, through the chairman O. W. Martin, Jr. thanked the Jaycees for "their considerable effort" to secure the signatures and for their interest.

Saturday, April 10, was "Establishment Day" at Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. Ickes, formally designated and declared the establishment of the Appomattox Court House National Historical Monument at Appomattox, Va.

In April of that year the US Dept. of the Interior assumed jurisdiction over the 970 acre tract at Old Appomattox Court House.

Approximately 403 people visited the McLean House on Friday, April 9, the 106th anniversary of the ending of the War Between the States and the signing of surrender terms by General Robert E. Lee and General U. S. Grant. Six hundred persons toured the Park Saturday, "Establishment Day" according to the superintendent, F. A. Gould, and the figure Sunday was 801 for visitation at the Park.

Churches To Vote On Superintendent

Letters and Questionaires have been sent to all 28 churches in the Appomattox Baptist Association explaining the conditions necessary for securing a Superintendent of Missions. The Special Missions Committee, which was elected over two years ago, has worked diligently to explore and gather information concerning this work and has shared same with the churches through letters and conferences.

The "time table" is now set for the churches to respond favorably or otherwise by July 1, 1971. It will take three-fourths (3/4) of the churches to vote favorably for the Executive Committee to proceed in securing a Superintendent.

The special committee has further implimented the "time table" by setting July 1, 1972 or thereafter as a projected date for securing this person. This, the Committee felt, would prevent haste and give time for accumulation of funds. The churches, upon approval, would be expected to give 3% of their total budget income, excluding Building and Special offerings, to Associational Missions. This would begin with forthcoming yearly budgets.

Members of this special committee "stand by" ready to share further information and answer questions with groups or members of all 28 churches.

Committee members are R. E. McDowell, G. Hunter Jones, W. C. Dudley, Melvin Winters, V. P. Locke, Ewart Welch and V. L. Hudson, chairman.
